Hankins says:

Everyone who comes here for their Drug Wants is taking the straight road to drug store satisfaction.

There is a sign that will help point out the way and keep you on the right track in drug buying.

Thousands and thousands were guided by it in 1909 and thousands more will make the buy this season.

They know that that sign reads right, that it points out the straight true road to HANKINS' Drug Store. We invite you to join the procession for 1910.

BATTLESHIP MICHIGAN IS LAUNCHED AT PHILADELPHIA.

A SIXTEEN THOUSAND TON SHIP WITH TWO SIXTEEN THOUSAND HORSEPOWER ENGINES.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 4—A considerable crowd gathered at the League Island navy yard to witness the ceremonies attending the placing in commission of the mammoth battleship Michigan today. The mustomary salute was fired as Captain N. R. Usher came aboard to assume command of the vessel. Captain Usher was accompanied by Lieutenant Commander D. F. Sellers, who is to be the executive officer of the Michigan.

The sailors and marines, numbering nearly 600 in all, were mustered on deck to listen to the reading of the orders assigning Captain Usher to the command of the ship. At the conclusion of this formality another salute was fired and the captain's pennant was run aloft and the ship's band played "The Star Spangled Banner," while the officers, crew and assembled spectators joined in three mighty cheers.

The Michigan is the first of the all big gun battleships designed for the United States Navy. In appearance and armament she is distinctly different from almost all of the other battleships flying the American flag. Her most noteworthy feature is her four great turrets, out of each of which protrudes a pair of 12-inch guns of the latest and most powerful type. These turrets, which are so arranged that every one of them can be used in a broadside, either to the port or starboard, are mounted on the axial line of the ship, one pair aft and the other pair forward of the superstructure.

Another peculiarity of the Michigan is the arrangement of the masts, the forward mast being on the starboard and the after on the port side of the ship. The armor belt line is eight feet wide and nearly 300 feet long, the thickness amidships varying from eleven inches at the top to nine inches at the bottom, while the armor that protects the magazines varies from a foot at the top to ten inches at the bottom.

The ship has a displacement of 16,000 tons, and carries in addition to her battery of eight 12-inch guns, twenty-two 3-inch guns and sixteen small rapid-fire guns. She is also fitted with two submerged torpedo tubes. Her engines are of 16,000 horsepower each.

One of Florida's most popular resorts is now incomparable beach land.
No one who ever had spent a day or two in Daytona Beach will ever include a brevity over its ex-

By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more pictorial surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gay food fishes in countless numbers leaping, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load, he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your fish glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridge-wood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss, sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogam forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas build from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another, so do our houses differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact, must be apparent to the most

SEABREEZE

SEABREEZE AND DAYTONA BEACH

SABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide-water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The mean average temperature, 80 degrees in the summer and 70 degrees in the winter, with an occasional extra rise or drop of a few days' duration, marks this as one of the most healthful locations in any section of the country, north, east, south or west.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straightaway record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin. For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, Builders say, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides. The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E. Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome houses have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

Work on rebuilding the Clearton Hotel is now in progress. This magnificent new-prest structure which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Association.

The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is lined summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Izak Walton, who had nothing unusual to land in weighing several hundred pounds.

ORCHARD is five miles north of Daytona, situated on the shores of the ocean. The town consists of the usual town posts of good drivages and parkways, and is surrounded by water lines.
Many houses are situated on either side of the river, which flows through the town.

The town is NOT incorporated,
but has a post office, a public library, a police station, a post office, a telephone company, and a gas plant.

Ormond has many of the amenities of a large city, such as modern automobile, soft heating water and electric power.
At Ormond Beach is located the State Hospital for the Insane, the largest in the state.

Ormond has all directions particularly attractive and the several towns which are located nearby are well worth a visit.
Ormond Beach is the western terminus of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and the town is located on the coast road from Daytona Beach to St. Augustine.

Ormond Beach is located on the Rocky Beach, which is the rocky beach of the Atlantic Ocean.

You will find a few orange groves, together with good soil and water.

Ormond is further up the coast than Daytona, and the food orange groves are the best in the state.
Ormond is the headquarters of

One of the Finest Young ORANGE GROVES in the State. Four acres, inside City limits. Price, $3,000.00 See J. P. Turner

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of by-gone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the State of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the State is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

New Smyrna has no bonded indebtedness and the tax levy is low.

A point that no tourist should fail to visit is the ruins of the Old Spanish Mission which stand somber and alone about one and a quarter miles southwest of New Smyrna. A good road leads to the place and the trip can be easily made by an automobile. Silent, in the great pine flats by the margin of the forest, is this place of pilgrimage for the pious; this rendezvous for the picnicker. The ruins are extensive, and while there is no authentic history of their origin, it is presumed that the Mission was built by the Franciscans in the days when the once powerful Kingdom of Spain first planted its flag upon what is now American soil. It was built of coquina, the roof being of the same material, cut into thin slabs and covered with cement plaster. Extensive gardens surrounded it, which were enclosed by a stone wall, portions of which still remain. Visitors usually come in parties merry and curious but the spell of the place soon falls upon them and they separate to sit alone, silent and meditative, under the arches or beside the ancient well.

CORONADO
Is situated on the peninsula opposite New Smyrna and is connected by a good road and bridge over the deep current of Indian River. Here you can put aside your conventional garb, breathe in large and deep the salty tonic of the sea and enjoy yourself to your heart's content with rod and reel in row or sail boat or in the ocean surf a short half-mile away. The great varieties of fish inhabiting the river and lagoon pass through the channel from the sea beneath the bridge. From verandas, upper balconies and windows you behold the magnificent river, the distant lagoons and islands, the forest-covered peninsula and the vast reaches of the Atlantic Ocean.

HAWKS PARK
A pretty village located along the ridge above the Indian River two and one-half miles south of New Smyrna and connected with fine shell roads. There is the appearance of newness, comfort and seclusion about the place which stamps it as the abode of people who come here to enjoy the blessings of outdoor life away from places where crowds are apt to gather.

ORMOND is five miles north of Daytona, located on the western bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach. Many fine residences are maintained on either side of the river, most of them embellished with subtropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

The town is very cosmopolitan, has an excellent graded school, several churches, a fine public library, up-to-date places of business and comfortable and convenient hotels and boarding houses.

Ormond has many of the Florida attractions—fine fruit, good fishing, excellent automobile, safe boating, salubrious climate and pleasant walks and drives.

At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, Breton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax River, while the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

The walks in all directions are particularly attractive, and the arbors, shady and inviting spots and romantic nooks are crowded with rustic seats which are mute invitations to enter into the enjoyment thereof.

Besides the broad, smooth ocean beach there are many drives for carriage or automobile—long drives and short drives; drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through dense tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient causeway built by the slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of these interesting plantations is Number Nine, located on the peninsula, five miles north of the Hotel Ormond. Here you see a fine orange grove, together with great varieties of other sub-tropical fruits and flowers.

Five miles further on you come to Moundgrove, one of the finest orange groves in this section of Florida. Moundgrove is on the headwaters of the Halifax River and is amid pretty surroundings. The place is reached by a good road (passing Number Nine) and is a drive all tourists may enjoy.

PICTURESQUE PORT ORANGE
PORT ORANGE is a pretty little village situated five miles south of Daytona on the Daytona-New Smyrna hard-surface road, the scenic highway of the East Coast. The town is located on the Halifax River, over which spans a bridge from the town to the peninsula opposite.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes owned and occupied by residents and winter tourists. It has several churches, one of the best graded schools in Volusia county, two general stores, a real estate agency and two or three hotels.

A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing. Port Orange is in the orange belt and a number of very fine citrus groves are nearby, where oranges, tangerines and grape-fruit hang in profusion. Some of the best trucking land in the State is to be found thereabout and excellent crops are raised.

West of Port Orange a short distance are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a spot that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. At one time all the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast sugar-cane and indigo plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those days but has been in disuse for thirty or forty years.

A pretty automobile or carriage drive from Daytona is via the ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, across the bridge and then passing through Port Orange to the ruins of the celebrated old sugar mill, returning to Daytona by the road on the mainland. This drive affords a very pleasing variety of scenery.

DU PONT SCANDAL ABOUT TO BE AIRED IN COURT.

wife of her cousin, William plucked a spray of orange blossoms from her carriage and turning, with an eloquent glance handed the flowers to Saulsbury.

The marriage of William Du Pont and his wife was unhappy from the beginning and nobody was particularly surprised when William went to Dakota and obtained a divorce from his cousin. Neither did it cause more than a mere ripple of surprise when short time afterwards the divorced wife of William Du Pont married Saulsbury. The two were married by the Rev. H. Ashton Henry, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, in this city. As the Episcopal church does not approve of the marriage of divorced persons, the minister was severely censured by the late Bishop Coleman. His position became untenable and he left the country, taking up his residence in Switzerland.

After their marriage the Saulsburys were ostracized by practically all the branches of the Du Pont family. Saulsbury, who was for a number of years a democratic aspirant for the U. S. Senatorship, became so unpopular that he was compelled to drop out of politics. Bitter remarks were made by the Saulsburys and the Du Ports and gossips were kept busy carrying tales from one side to the other. Rumor had it that some very spicy and dangerous remarks were uttered and in the present suit it is charged that Elizabeth Canby Bradford Du Pont originated them.

There are countless ramifications of the Du Pont family and it is an open secret that at least ten distinct factions exist among the various branches. Nearly all of them are in some way involved in this culminating family trouble and may have to appear as witnesses in court. If Saulsbury can have his way. Among those said to be involved in the matter, is mentioned Mrs. Bessie G. DuPont, from whom Alfred I. Du Pont, the complainant in the slander suit, obtained a divorce in Dakota some years ago on grounds of "cruelty and inhuman treatment." Alfred I. Du Pont married again and it is remarked as one of the peculiar features of this family quarrel, that the mansion near Wilmington, which Mrs. Bessie G. DuPont occupies, is the property of the present Mrs. Alfred I. DuPont.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

HARMONY-HAPPINESS-HEALTH.

And now about harmony, happiness, health, these three, but the greatest of these is harmony.

Because—

Upon harmony depends your happiness, and upon your happiness depends your health.

If there is discord anywhere in you, you are wasting energy. The more energy you waste the less vitality you have.

The less energy you waste the more vitality you have. And with vitality you can throw off almost any disease.

And this is no mere fallacy.

It is a fact of medical science.

When there is harmony, control by mind and body, the powers of digestion goes on without friction. The food you eat is assimilated—goes to the circulatory and muscular tissues in body and mind.

But—

Introduce discord; indulge in a bad fit of anger or envy, or jealousy, irritate your mind to the point of worry. It matters little then what you eat.

The food does not go to the place and does not build up the cells. It goes into waste. And the waste clogs the body and mind.

What is the matter?

Lack of co-operation, harmony. There are variance, strife, discord. In the warring of the members vital force is lost. You are rendered liable to weakness and disease.

And what is true of the digestive is true of the nervous system.

Discord, mental or physical, will set your nerves to "jangling like sweet bells out of tune." They will grow ragged and become weak and "jerky" and nag you. The end is prostration.

And so of the circulation of the blood and the many other functions of the body.

Harmony is a great physician. Working through happiness, it promotes digestion, thrills the blood with vital energy, strengthens the nerves—in short makes you a man alive!

Harmony—happiness—health. "A threefold cord is not easily broken." Therefore harmonize for life.

Allow nothing—least of all the petty little things—to move you from your poise. Happiness and health depend upon it. And the possibility of it lies within your own grasp.

Science will tell you that anger and hatred and jealousy and despair and fear are real poisons. It is a fact tested in the laboratories, that they distill a deadly toxin in the blood.

On the other hand, the higher vibrations such as love, hope, joy, peace, courage, are real blood elixirs.

Harmonize your life.

Flying Fishes.
A dazzling silvery splendor pervades the surface of the body of the best known species of the flying fish. The summit of its head, its back and its sides are of azure blue. This blue becomes spotted upon the dorsal fin, the pectoral fin and the tail. This fish is the common prey of the sea birds and the more voracious fishes, such as the shark. Its enemies abound in air and water. If it succeeds in escaping the Charybdis of the water the chances are in favor of its meeting its fate in the Scylla of the atmosphere. If it escapes the jaws of the shark it will probably fall to the share of the seagull.

BOATS PASSING SMITH CREEK BRIDGE SHOULD CLOSE DRAW

J. B. Garrison and party, while returning Friday night from a hunting expedition at Harwood, found Mrs. F. A. Mann, of Seabrook, held up at the Smith Creek bridge, owing to the fact that some boat in passing had neglected to replace the draw.

Mrs. Mann was returning to her home on the ocean beach from Harwood, after seeing one of her daughters depart by train and drove up on the narrow approach to the bridge before noticing that the draw had been left open. She could not close the draw, neither could she retreat from her position and was obliged to await assistance, which arrived in the shape of Mr. Garrison and party, who were justly indignant at the carelessness which had exposed her to long cold wait in the closing darkness.

This is not the first time that the draw has been left open, it seems, as E. A. Lapp says he has also found it in that condition.

Passing boats should not only replace the draw, but be sure that it is fully closed, as a failure to make the proper adjustments might precipitate an automobile or other vehicle into the waters of the creek.

COLORED PEOPLE CELEBRATE EMANCIPATION DAY.

The colored people of Daytona generally, and the Industrial and kindergarten school of Midway and Waycross more especially, celebrated Emancipation Day by a street parade Monday afternoon, followed by speaking at the armory, and a concert at the same place in the evening. The street parade was quite creditable, containing a number of well gotten up floats.

WALLACE'S HOME SOLD BY SHERIFF.

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 4—Concord lawyers having a claim against Geo. E. Wallace, the former Rochester millionaire, for services in a suit brought by his divorced wife for additional alimony, have foreclosed a mortgage on the homestead in Rochester, and will dispose of it by sheriff sale today.

The former Mrs. Wallace was given a judgment of about $6,000 some months ago. Her counsel have been unable to collect the judgment. Wallace has not been in this state for several years. He has been living with his second wife in Boston.

STRAWBERRIES CAME THROUGH FROST IN FINE CONDITION.

BOTH RIPE AND GREEN BERRIES AND MASSES OF BUDS AND BLOSSOMS ARE SEEN ON THE STRAWBERRY FARM UNHARMED BY THE FREEZING WEATHER.

A visit to the Despland farm on West Magnolia avenue disclosed the surprising fact that notwithstanding the unusually low temperature which prevailed here several nights last week, there were still big, luscious berries untouched by frost to be found among the leaves of the handsome strawberry plants, while there were green berries in various stages of development and buds and blossoms in countless profusion. Indeed, Mr. Despland served strawberries to his guests at dinner Monday which were picked from the field that morning.

Mr. Despland has about an acre of magnificent looking plants from which he should have a continuously increasing yield, as but little damage resulted from the extreme cold.

He used crude oil stoves in the field during the cold nights, burning about two barrels of kerosene, not being able to secure the crude oil, but thinks he derived little benefit from this and gives most of the credit of protection to the artesian water which he kept running between the rows of plants until, as he expressed it, one could skate and pick strawberries at the same time. The warm temperature of this water, about 70 degrees, he thinks, materially assisted in saving the fruit and blossoms which were hidden under a sheltering cloak of leaves of the plants.

Possibly others, as well as Mr. Despland, succeeded in carrying their strawberries successfully through the chilly time just passed.

INSTINCT AND REASON.

An Interesting Illustration of the Two Traits of Monkeys.

An illustration showing the difference between instinct and reason in monkeys came under the observation of David Starr Jordan, the famous naturalist. At one time he had two lively Macacus monkeys called Bob and Jocko. These were nut and fruit eating monkeys and instinctively knew just how to crack nuts and peel fruits. At the same time he had a baby monkey, Mono, of a kind that had the egg eating instinct. But Mono had never seen an egg.

To each of the three monkeys Dr. Jordan gave an egg, the first that any of them had ever seen. Baby Mono, descended from egg eating ancestors, handled his egg with all the inherited expertness of a long developed instinct. He cracked it with his upper teeth, making a hole in it, and sucked out all its substance. Then holding the eggshell up to the light and seeing there was no longer anything in it, he threw it away. All this he did mechanically, automatically and just as well with the first egg as with any other he afterward had. And all eggs since given him he has treated in the same way.

The monkey Bob took his egg for some kind of nut. He broke it with his teeth and tried to pull off the shell. When the inside ran out and fell on the ground he looked at it for a moment in bewilderment, then with both hands scooped up the yolk and the sand mixed with it and swallowed it. Then he stuffed the shell into his mouth. This act was not instinct; it was reason. He was not familiar by inheritance with eggs. He would handle one better next time, however.

Reason very often makes mistakes at first, but when it is trained it becomes a means far more valuable and powerful than instinct.

The third monkey, Jocko, tried to eat his egg in much the same way that Bob did; but, not liking the taste, he threw it away.—St. Nicholas.

DUKE JOHN ALBERT OF MECKLENBURG AND HIS BRIDE.

The most brilliant wedding that has taken place in Germany since the marriage of the German crown prince was that of Duke John Albert of Mecklenburg and Princess Elizabeth of Stolberg. The German emperor, the empress and all the royal family were in attendance, as were hundreds of the most notable persons in the realm. It was the second marriage of the duke, his first wife having died some years ago. He was born in 1857.

DON'T BELITTLE YOURSELF.

Few Chances Come to the Self Depreciatory Man.

"Henry," said Uncle Hiram to his hopeful young nephew, "I would not advise anybody to go around continually blowing his own horn. We tire of men who do that, and we are apt to think of them that that's all they can do, blow."

"On the other hand, Henry, never belittle yourself; never be self depreciatory. Don't have a poor opinion of yourself, but if you do have such an opinion don't express it. The man who blows his own horn may seldom be taken at his own valuation, but the self depreciatory man almost invariably is."

"So never run yourself down or speak doubtfully of your own ability. If the boss is thinking of advancing you and he should say to you some day, 'Henry, we are thinking of trying you on this thing--do you think you could handle this job?' you don't want to say, 'Well, I haven't had much experience yet in that way, and I really don't know whether I could do that or not.'

"You don't want to say anything like that, for if you do he'll be likely to think it over some more and end up by trying somebody else, taking a blower maybe who can't really do the work half as well as you could, but who's got self confidence enough to say he can."

"You don't know what you can do till you try. Some men try and fail, but an astonishing number rise to occasions, developing strength or ability that others might never have thought them to possess."—New York Sun.

SPOILED HER DAY.

Why the Woman Looked Daggers at the Car Conductor.

"Oh, the brute!" exclaimed a stylishly dressed woman who was riding downtown on a Tenth street car. She plainly addressed the remark to the conductor, who smiled deprecatingly, raised his hand to his cap and said, "Sure, I didn't think it was any use in the world."

All the way to Market street the aggrieved woman followed the unlucky conductor up and down the car with her eyes, "looking daggers" at him. The poor chap had unwittingly spoiled her day.

As she came into the car she saw lying near the door a woman's belt buckle. It was supposedly oriental in fashion, with a big "stone" set in it. She sat down, with her eye on the buckle; rose, stooped and picked it up. She had opened her bag with the intention of dropping her find within, but glanced up and saw that the other passengers were watching her. Evidently she thought it might be wiser to ask the conductor if he knew the owner. She held it, therefore, until the conductor passed her, then handed it to him, with the question, "Do you know whether anybody has lost this?" "I suppose some one has, ma'am," he answered. "Let me see it."

Then, after glancing at it a moment, "Aw, that's no good," said he and tossed the treasure (?) into the street. "Oh, the brute!" exclaimed the woman. And who can blame her?—Philadelphia Times.

The Purchase of New York.

When the letter announcing the purchase for 60 guilders ($24) of the 11,000 morgens of land constituting Manhattan Island was read in the assembly of the states general on Nov. 7, 1626, it was resolved that "no action is necessary on this information." Had their high mightinesses possessed prevision how strenuous might have been the resolution passed that the newly acquired island should be kept forever under their control? Nor was the West India company, that money making trust which ventured this first speculation in wheat and in lands in the long line of enterprises known to Manhattan, more alive to the excellence of their investment. More than ten times the sum paid over to the Indians for about 22,000 acres, according to their estimate, has since been paid for a single square foot of New York soil. Probably there is no other sale on record where the advance in value has been so great.—Putnam's Magazine.

An Armored Nest.
In the Argentine Republic, says a writer in the Strand Magazine, where the summers are long and hot, it is customary to leave the windows open both day and night during the heat of part of the year. A bird, taking advantage of this, proceeded to build a nest in the room, fixing it firmly to one of the Venetian blinds over the window. The eggs were duly hatched and the young birds fledged. On taking down the empty nest I found it to be practically armored, the outer part being composed almost entirely of old rusty nails woven in among the hay. On counting the nails I found that no fewer than sixty-six had been used, besides some wire and pins taken from my dressing table. The bird was about the size of a robin and very tame.

Not So Bad.
"I asked my class of small boys if any could tell me the meaning of the word 'apprentice,'" said a teacher recently, "and all looked at me blankly until one lad arose."
"Can you tell me what apprentice means?" I repeated.
"Yes, it means practicing work... Exchange."

Incomplete Information.
"We are now exactly a thousand feet above the level of the sea."
"What sea?"
"The gulf—ocean doesn't say?"—Bon Vivant.

She Was the Ghost.

"A certain lady and her family," says Sir Mountstuart Grant-Duff in his "Diary," "brought a place in Scotland which was haunted by the ghost of a woman who was to be seen constantly at night wandering through the rooms and passages. When the family arrived the lady was much struck with the place and said, 'I must have been here before, for I know this place so well, only there ought to be two rooms here, and there is only one.'

"The agent replied that within a few weeks the owner had caused a partition to be taken down and made the two rooms into one. Still the lady was puzzled at her knowledge of the place till she remembered that it was a house she used to go to in her dreams.

"Well, some time passed, and the agent was up at the house again, when the lady complained that one part of the contract had not been fulfilled. They had hired a house and a ghost for the summer, and no ghost had she seen. The agent replied: 'Of course not, because you are the ghost. We recognized you the moment we saw you!'"

Why They Were Selected.

It has been recorded that General Henry Knox in 1783 was the "greatest" of eleven distinguished officers of the army, weighing 280 pounds. Noah Brooks in his book entitled "Henry Knox" gives the following incident relating to the general's full battle dress:

With a Captain Sargent he was selected to present the hard case of the starving and naked men at Valley Forge to the attention of a committee of congress. One of the congressmen, wishing to show his wit and sarcasm, said that he had never seen a fatter man than General Knox nor a better dressed man than his associate, Knox managed to keep his temper and remained silent, but his subordinate retorted, "The corps out of respect to congress and themselves have sent as their representatives the only man who had an ounce of superfluous flesh on his body and the only other man who possessed a complete suit of clothes."

Wanted a Pattern.

A ragged Irishman was charged in a London court a short time ago with tendering a counterfeit shilling in payment for a penny loaf.

Though forlorn in aspect, he was not destitute of that shrewdness which is characteristic of his countrymen. He stated that he was sent for the loaf by a person at a public house close by, who gave him the coin to pay for it, and that on discovering it was not good he bought the coin for three half-pence.

The Magistrate—How came you to buy the shilling after you had discovered it was a bad one?

The prisoner, with much apparent gravity, replied:

"Sure, then, your honor, I bought it so that if I should happen to have a bad one offered to me I might know it by looking at the one I had with me."

There was a burst of laughter, and the rogue was dismissed with a caution.

When the President Lost His Hat.

The Crystal palace exhibition opened at New York July 15, 1853, was the first affair of this kind in the country for which foreign exhibits were solicited. The "big show" began with a procession in which President Franklin Pierce, mounted, was a conspicuous feature. The hero of the day rode a mettlesome steed, and while proceeding up Wall street the presidential headgear, a new silk hat of the prevalent style, was inadvertently tumbled to the pavement. Another horse recklessly stepped upon the unfortunate tile, crushing it out of the semblance to itself, besmirching it with mud—real Wall street mud. What was left of the misshapen and bedaubed hat was worn by the president, to the great amusement of the spectators, until a substitute could be secured.

A Witty Retort.

One day while dining with the secretary of the admiralty William IV., then heir presumptive to the British crown, said: "When I am king, sir, you shall not be the secretary of the admiralty, I promise you. What do you say to that, eh?"

"All I can respond in such cases," returned the wily official, "is, 'God save the king'"—St. Louis Republic.

Fido's Tail a Mystery.

Little White was to go to the vet.

"What are you trying to do with the dog?" asked the doctor's father.

"I think his tail is coming off."

"Oh, no, White! That's impossible. What makes you think so?"

"Cause Fido's tail is so loose that it wiggles."—New York Press.

Bright Thought.

"Oh, dear," sighed small Elmer, "I wish I had another pocket."

"You have several now," rejoined his mother. "Why do you want another?"

"I've looked through all of them for my knife," explained Elmer, "but couldn't find it. If I had another pocket it might be in that."—Chicago News.

A Calamity.

Tammie (to McTavish, whom he has just pulled out of the water)—Minn, Donal, ye suld be lookin' happy! Are ye no' thankfu' yer life's saved? McTavish (sourly)—I dinna see into chuse to be thankfu'. The glass o' whisky I had afore I fell into the water's gotten fair drossed!—London Tit-Bits.

Their Turn Out.

Miss Florence Blodgett who has been spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blodgett, on South Ridgewood avenue, left Monday afternoon on her return to Smith College, Hampton, Mass.

Joseph H. Rose and family arrived Monday night from Newberry, N. Y., and are located in the Brown house, corner Ridgewood and Orange avenues for the season. Mr. Rose is a brother of E. D. W. Rose.

Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Grey arrived Saturday night from Jackson, Mich., and will spend the winter here. Dr. Grey is a personal friend and family physician of C. B. Westren, of Jackson, who has spent many seasons in Daytona.

The churches are observing the regular week of prayer. Services were held in the First Congregational church Monday night, with good attendance led by the pastor, Dr. B. F. Marsic. Services will be held in the First Baptist church tonight at 7:30, led by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Abey.

A Renault automobile arrived here Saturday and was unloaded and taken to Seabreeze where the owner, William Denman is spending the winter at The Princess Inn. The car has a limousine body and is a very handsome and expensive machine. The chauffeur, Anthony Roustek, arrived the same day and took charge of the car.

"Meadow Brook Farm" is sweet and clear in every line, admirably staged and acted. Its deeply absorbing story commands attention at the start, and, on the final fall of the curtain sends those in the audience home happier and better men and women. W. F. Mann has spared no expense to give the production of "Meadow Brook Farm" beauty and worth, which will be seen at the Daytona opera house on Tuesday, January 11, with an excellent cast headed by Lou Streeter.

RESULT OF DECLAMATORY CONTEST AT DELAND.

The high school declamatory contest, which took place at DeLand, Friday of last week, resulted in Miss Inez Carson, of Kissimmee, winning first prize for girls, and Miss May Tripp, of Starke, second prize. William Rogers, of Lakeland, won first prize for boys, and Roger Wells, of Starke, won second prize. Dr. Hulley presented the class of contestants with a good text book on elocution. Although neither of Dayton's contestants won a prize, yet Prof. Wright and his corps of teachers express themselves as more than gratified with the creditable way in which Miss Kingston and Allan Shaw acquitted themselves.

AN INTERESTING HARD TIMES ENTERTAINMENT.

Miss Helen Burgman entertained nine couples at a "hard times" party at her home on Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, New Year's night. The guests were in costumes as original as striking.

Jerome Wetherby as "Tim O'Flaherty" was the beau of the evening, and Miss Everden as "Miss Enterprise" was the belle. "Dusty Roads," "Weary Willie," "Miss Poor But Proud," in company with numerous cockneys and waitresses lent merriment to the miscellaneous group, and an evening of laughter and fun was spent.

The prettiest and most striking costume of the evening, perhaps, was the one worn by Miss Everden. It was a one-piece dress composed entirely of copies of the Jacksonville Times-Union, trimmed with a green cover. A fetching cap of the same material was coquettishly worn with spinner curl.

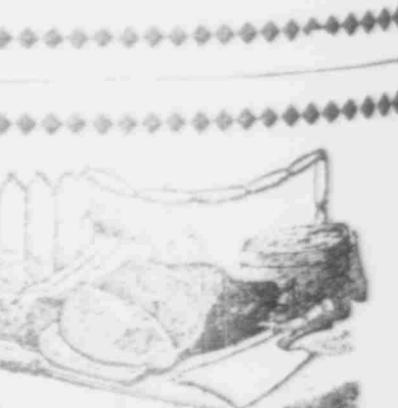

"Miss Enterprise" was awarded the ladies' prize, a cake of Octagon soap; "Tim O'Flaherty" won the gentleman's prize, a corn cob pipe. The consolation, a lolly-pop, was won by John Dotzeller. Refreshments were served.

T. O. MELTON EXPLAINS DELAY IN ISLAND WORK.

T. O. Melton takes exception to Alderman Mills' statement in regard to the delay of the work on the City Island and says it is not due to any disinterest on the part of either himself or Mr. Shear, but because of the extremely low tides. He says it is necessary to have a better stage of water for the barges to be used in transferring the material and just as soon as the tides are high enough the Klondyke will again take up the work. Even when at work before they were obliged to use small loads upon the barges and at that time the water was much higher than at present.
